A PROCLAMATION,

BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Executive Department of North Carolina.
RALEIGH, March 7th, 1870.

By virtue of authority vested in me by the Constitution of the State, and by virtue of an act passed at the present session of the General Assembly, entitled "An Act to secure the better protection of life and property," ratified the 29th day of January, 1870, and for the reason that the civil authorities of the county of Alamance are not able to protect the citizens of said county in the enjoyment of his and property, I hereby proclaim and declare that the county of Alamance is in a state of insurrection.

On the 20th of November, 1869, a citizen of the United States, who was engaged in teaching a school in said county, was taken from his house by a band of men armed and disguised, and was by them cruelly beaten and scourged.

On the night of the 28th of February, 1870, a citizen of said county was taken from his house by a band of men armed and disguised, and, was by them hanged by the neck until he was dead on the public square in the town of Graham, near the Court House.

And more recently the Postmaster at Company Shops, in said county, an officer of the government of the United States, was compelled to flee the county, and while absent a band of men armed and disguised visited his house, with the purpose, doubtless, of taking his life; and this within a short distance of federal troops stationed in said county, not to overawe or intimidate good citizens, but to preserve the peace and to protect the innocent and the law-abiding.

In addition to these cases information has been received at this department that peaceable and law-abiding citizens of the county aforesaid have been molested in their houses, have been whipped, shot, scourged, and threatened with further visitations of violence and outrage unless they would conform to some arbitrary standard of conduct set up by these disguised assassins and murderers.

I have issued proclamation after proclamation to the people of the State, warning offenders, and wicked or misguided violators of the law to cease their evil deeds, and, by leading better lives, propitiate those whose duty it is to enforce the law. I have invoked public opinion to aid me in repressing these outrages and in preserving peace and order. I have waited to see if the people of Alamance would assemble in public meeting and express their condemnation of such conduct by a portion of the citizens of the county, but I have waited in vain. No meeting of the kind has been held. No expression of disapproval even of such conduct by the great body of the citizens has yet reached this department: but, on the contrary, it is believed that the lives of citizens who have reported these crimes to the Executive have been thereby endangered, and it is further believed that many of the citizens of the county are so terrified that they dare not complain, or attempt the arrest of criminals in their midst. The civil officers of the county are silent and powerless.

The laws must be maintained. These laws are over all. Every citizen, of whatever party or color, must be absolutely free to express his political opinions, and must be safe in his own house. These outrages and these violations of law must and SHALL cease. Criminals must and SHALL be brought to justice. The whole power of both governments, State and Federal, is pledged to this, and this power will be exerted. Criminals who may escape to counties adjoining Alamance will be pursued, and if not delivered up by the civil authorities of said counties, or if sheltered or protected in said counties with the knowledge of the civil authorities, the said counties will also be declared to be in a state of insurrection.

I earnestly appeal to all good citizens to aid the civil authorities in maintaining peace and good order, and support me in my purpose to protect life and property without regard to party or color.

Done at the City of Raleigh, this 7th day [L. S.] of March, 1870, and in the 94th year of our Independence.

W. W. HOLDEN, Governor.

By the Governor:
W. R. RICHARDSON, Private Secretary.

AN ACT TO PUNISH CONSPIRACY, SEDITION AND REBELLION.

The General Assembly of North-Carolina do enact:

SECTION 1. That if two or more persons shall conspire together to overturn or put down, or to destroy by force, the Government of North Carolina, or to levy war against the Government of this State, or to oppose by force the authority of said Government, or by force, or by threats, to intimidate, prevent, hinder or delay the execution of any law of the State of North Carolina, or by force or fraud to seize or take possession of any fire arms or property of the State aforesaid, against the will or contrary to the authority of said State, every person so offending in any of the ways aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a high crime, and upon conviction thereof in any court having jurisdiction, shall be imprisoned for not more than ten years, and be fined not exceeding five thousand dollars.

SEC. 2. That if any person incite, set on foot, assist or engage in any rebellion or insurrection against the authority of the State of North Carolina or the laws thereof, or shall give aid or comfort thereto, each and every person so offending in any of the ways aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a high crime, and upon conviction thereof in any court having jurisdiction, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for not more than fifteen years, and be fined not more than ten dollars.

SEC. 3. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

AN ACT TO SECURE THE BETTER PROTECTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact, That the Governor is hereby authorized and empowered, whenever in his judgment the civil authorities in any County are unable to protect its citizens in the enjoyment of life and property, to declare such County to be in a state of insurrection, and to call into active service the Militia of the State to such an extent as may become necessary to suppress such insurrection; and in such case the Governor is further authorized to call upon the President for such assistance, if any, as in his judgment may be necessary to enforce the law.

SEC. 2. That upon motion of a Solicitor of a district, it shall be the duty of the Judge thereof to remove the trial of any person who has been, or who hereafter may be indicted in any County in the State for murder, conspiracy, or violation of an act entitled "An act making the act of going masked, disguised or painted, a felony," ratified the twelfth day of April, Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, from the County in which such offence may have been committed, to such other County in his district, or adjoining district, as the Solicitor may designate; and any Judge before whom such case is pending, may, upon his own motion, make such removal.

SEC. 3. That the expenses attending the calling of the Militia into actual service as herein provided, shall be paid by the Treasurer of the State, upon the warrant of the Governor, and it shall be the duty of the Commissioners of the County declared to be in a state of insurrection, and in which such service was rendered, to re-imburse within one year the Treasurer of the State the expenses thus paid: Provided, That whenever a person or persons shall be convicted of a violation of any offence mentioned in section second of this act, said expense of the Militia shall be taxed in the bill of costs against the person or persons convicted, and when collected, the same shall be paid into the Treasury of such County.

SEC. 4. That the cost on conviction, under an indictment in section second of this act, shall be paid by the Commissioners of the county where the offence was committed, on the certificate of the Clerk of the Court where the trial may be had, and if necessary, said Commissioners shall levy a tax for that purpose on all the subjects of taxation in said County, and execution in favor of said County shall issue against the property of the persons convicted for the cost aforesaid.

SEC. 5. That all laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 6. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

FARM-YARD SCRAPS.

Plant fields of corn.
Patches of Cotton.
Plant fields of peas and potatoes.
And only small lots in Tobacco.
It is bad economy to buy corn and meat.
Plant enough for home and some to spare.
And then plant Cotton and Tobacco as much as you can.

Cabbages may now be safely planted in the open air from hot beds.

Sweet potatoes will do very well in frames with very little bottom heat.

Don't set out too many fruit trees in the garden; leave a space for vegetables, to which the sun will have free access, when the trees have attained full growth. You will always need fresh vegetables as well as well as nice fruit.

April, in the orchard, should be a busy month. If additions are needed, or missing trees need replanting, we think such work may be safely done during the early part of April. And where pruning has been neglected or postponed, it may still be performed without danger.

Early tomatoes are certainly the most profitable, but for family and general garden use they are not the most desirable. The later tomatoes are generally larger, finer quality, and more productive. We observe this season quite a number of new varieties offered, and some contain extraordinary merit, as for instance, the Trophy, being of tremendous size and fine solid flesh. But for ordinary culture the Early Smooth Red, or the Tilden and Cook's Favorite, which have been so well and favorably known for a long time. Try the new ones, but do not forsake the old kinds.—Hortic't.

An intelligent farmer says: We have always thought replanted corn was of little consequence, but "it is of so much consequence, he replants whether it is needed or not—or rather, he plants two or three weeks after the crop is planted, a hill about every fifteenth row each way." He says; "If the weather becomes dry during the filling time, the silk and tassel both become dry and dead. In this condition, if it should become seasonable, the silk revives and renews its growth, but the tassel does not recover. Then, for want of pollen the new silk is unable to fill the office for which it was designed. The pollen from the replanted corn is then ready to supply the silk, and the filling is completed." He says nearly all the abortive ears, so common in corn crops, is caused by want of pollen, and that he has known ears to double their size in this second filling.

FOOD FOR POULTRY.

Never stint poultry in the variety or quality of their food. Good food is a positive economy. The best and heaviest corn is the cheapest. The best food is that which gives the most of what nature demands for the formation of muscle, bone and fat. Fine bran or middlings is richer in two of these important ingredients than any other kind of food, but being deficient in gluten, is not warmth giving, and is better when combined with the whole grain, which, when mashed, forms a most wholesome and nutritious food.

Barley is much used in Europe, but should never be the only food in the poultry-yard, Fowls do not fatten on it.

Oats are good as a change, but are inferior as nutriment.

Buckwheat is much liked by poultry, is greedily devoured, and is more productive of eggs, early and in abundance, than any other grain.

Hemp seed is also productive of eggs and is also very strengthening. The cereal is one of the best things that can be fed during moulting.

In giving soft feed it should be mixed stiff, not mushy; fowls do not relish it in this state. A good food of this kind is composed of equal quantities of fine bran and Indian meal. This should be mixed with hot or scalding water, of such consistency that it breaks or crumbles when thrown on the ground. Another good soft feed is made of small potatoes washed clean, boiled and mashed with an equal quantity of Indian meal.

In giving soft feed never use a feeding dish or trough. If the yards are clean, as they should be, the ground is the best place to feed them from. The gravel and sand swallowed with the food is necessary for digestion, besides poultry prefer to pick their food from the ground.

Don't neglect green food. We have spoken of it before in a former number, and only refer to it now to impress more forcibly the necessity of it if you wish to succeed with your poultry; a little chopped vegetables of some kind—whether cabbage, lettuce, onions, or other greens—is better given every day than a great deal once or twice a week.

If you wish perfect eggs, lime in some form must be furnished. Broken bones, lime rubbish, pounded shells (oyster or clam) are all good.

Beef or pork scraps are productive of good results. In the winter, when the fowls do not get worms or grubs, a cake laid in the yard for them to pick at, or a little chopped off and fed to them, adds to their health and to the contents of the egg basket. So also an occasional dish of raw meat chopped into pieces, about as large as hazel nuts.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT

To the Memory of the late Chief Justice RUFFIN.

A very large number of the people of Rockingham county, met in conjunction with the Bar of said county on Tuesday the 22nd of March 7870, to pay a tribute of respect and veneration to the memory of the late Hon. THOMAS RUFFIN.

The meeting was organized by calling Dr. ED. T. BRODNAX to the chair, and appointing D. S. Read and A. M. SCALES, Secretaries.

On motion a committee of five were appointed by the chair to prepare and report Resolutions for the action of the meeting. The Committee consisted of Messrs. JOHN KERR, JAMES T. MOREHEAD, (the elder) JOHN A. DILLARD, WILLIAM B. BETHELL and GEO. D. BOYD. After retiring the committee in a short time returned and reported through Mr. KERR, as follows, 'to wit:

The death of a great and good man, is a sore public calamity at any time,—but it is felt to be peculiarly so, when society—pressed with other mighty troubles, stands in need of all the aid of the wisest counsels and the highest virtues.

Such a calamity, in its greatest force the the people and Bar of Rockingham, in common with the whole State have recently sustained in the death of the Hon THOS. RUFFIN, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. Therefore, we who compose this meeting, have come together at this time, to offer our sincere tribute to the memory of one of the ablest and purest judges that ever lived—as he was likewise one of its best patriots, and among the wisest, of our country's modern statesmen, whose long life, singularly devoted as it was, to duty in all its demands, closed at his own residence in Hillsboro on the 11th of February last, in the circle of his devoted family, and attended by the tears and sighs of the whole community in which he had long resided.

Greatly advanced in years and crowned with—"a hoary head found in the way of Righteousness," this venerable citizen and illustrious Judge went down to the grave, not without casting behind him as he sunk, a light, which like that of the great Orb of Day, when setting amidst the cloud mists—beautifies, and illumines the whole moral horizon.

As in life, he was esteemed and admired for his general abilities and his great learning and trusted for his integrity and wisdom; so in Death, his memory should be cherished and honoredby every appropriate token of respect and veneration: that thereby the present and succeeding generations, may be incited to the love of virtue, and the imitation of his enobling example.

As expressive of our feelings and sentiments on this occasion it is therefore

Resolved 1. That in the death of the Hon. THOMAS RUFFIN, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, our State has been bereaved of one of her most endeared sons, and deprived of the benefit of the matured wisdom of a greatly venerated patriot and statesman, and the Bar and Bench of their honored Patriarch their chief ornament and their glory.

Resolved, 2. As in life he was in no small degree identified in his material interest, with the people of Rockingham, and had formed many strong ties of friendship among them; so now in his death they feel specially bereaved and claim the privilege to stand among his chief public mourners.

Resolved, 3. That in view of his exalted character we deem it altogether proper, and strongly demanded by the public feeling—that an enduring memorial of him in the form of a carefully prepared Oration on his life and character, be pronounced by some competent person, to be hereafter selected; at such time and place as may be designated and that a committee of five of whom the Chairman of this meeting shall be one—be now appointed to select the Orator and designate the time and place of delivering the oration.

Resolved, 4. That these proceedings be furnished to the Hillsboro Recorder for Publication with request that they be copied from that paper by the Sentinel at Raleigh, and other papers in the State.

Resolved, 5. That the Chairman of this meeting transmit a copy of our proceedings to the venerable widow of the illustrious deceased, and that he offer her the assurance of our deeply sincere condolence with her and her family in their great bereavement.

Resolved, 6. That these resolutions be presented to his Honor the presiding Judge of the Court now in Term, with a request that they be entered on the minutes of the Courts and that Hon. A. M. SCALES be charged with the duty of presenting them to the Court and making said request.

On presenting the Report of the Committee Mr. KERR, addressed the meeting, on the character of Judge RUFFIN, and was followed by Hon. JAMES T. MOREHEAD, Hon. DAVID S. REID and JOHN H. DILLARD, Esq., After these addresses the report of the Committee was unanimously adopted.

The meeting was characterized by an unusual degree of solemnity and decorum, and thus evinced the deep sincerity of the people of Rockingham, in their feelings of respect and veneration for the character of the eminently distinguished personage, whose memory they have met to honor.

PUBLIC MEETING.

A meeting of a portion of the citizens of Orange county, was held at the school house in Beth Carr district on Thursday the 31st day of March 1870. The meeting was organized by calling Merritt Cheek to the chair, and appointing H. C. Andrews, Secretary. The object of the meeting was explained by the chairman and on motion the Chairman appointed Manly C. Lloyd, J. R. Whitaker, James Fipps and H. C. Andrews to draft resolutions for the adoption of the meeting, and in a short time they reported the following resolutions, which were read and unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That we think it highly expedient to have a general meeting of the citizens of the county at Hillsboro, on Tuesday of May Court.

Resolved, That we would suggest the propriety of sending to Congress a respectful remonstrance against the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, until a committee of that body empowered to send for persons and paper, shall have fully investigated the matter, and shall have reported in favor of such suspension and the reasons thereof.

And we recommend that a township meeting be held at Chapel Hill on Thursday the 21st day of April next for the purpose of appointing delegates to a county convention to be held at Hillsboro, on Tuesday of May court for the purpose of nominating suitable candidates to represent us in our next legislature, and also other county officers.

And we further recommend each school district within the Chapel Hill township send delegates to the township meeting. And that the chairman appoint four delegates to represent this district in the township meeting, and the following were appointed to attend said meeting: Manly C. Lloyd, Manley D. Stroud, James J. Hogan and John W. Gattis.

The Hillsboro Recorder and Raleigh Sentinel are requested to publish.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

The Spirits of the deep—A Strange Tale of the Sea.

From the Boston Traveler, March 25.

About a year ago last month the schooner Andy Johnson, McLellan, master, of Salem, started for George's Banks, on a fishing cruise, and has not been heard from since. About that time the schooner Haskell came in collision with a vessel in the night time on the banks, and sunk her, leaving a large piece of the rail of the unknown vessel on her bows. This piece corresponded with the Andy Johnson, and is supposed to be the last relic of her. The Haskell started last month for the banks, and the first night on the fishing grounds had bad weather. Four of the men were on deck when suddenly there appeared to them four of the missing men of the crew of the Johnson, who ordered them home.

They were frightened and called the Captain and the rest of the crew, told them what they had seen, and prevailed upon them to give up the voyage and return home, which they did, leaving the schooner on her arrival. The owners then shipped a new Captain and crew, as not one of the former crew would go in her, and she again left for the Banks, where she arrived in good time, and they again tried their luck. Bad weather again met the schooner, and when all hands were on deck eleven men appeared to them and took their lines from them, ordering them to return at once, which they did the next morning.

Arriving off the harbor of Gloucester, they anchored the schooner and took the small boats to land, giving as a reason that they were afraid to take the vessel to Gloucester as they were ordered to Salem. The owners sent a tug-boat and towed the Haskell to their wharf, and now she is reported as returning the third time empty. This is a strange and curious tale, but it is vouched for by reliable parties as true. It has created a great deal of excitement in the ports of Salem and Gloucester.

COLONEL BENTON ON HORACE GREELY AND SOLON ROBINSON.—It was the opinion of the late Thomas H. Benton that Solon Robinson's chief merit, like that of Samson, lay in his hair. Fellow-citizens," said Colonel Benton once in a speech at St. Louis, "the editor of the New York Tribune, Horace Greely, is the whitest man I ever saw. His hat is white, his coat is white, his pantaloons are white; he has white hair and a white face, and I think you will find that his liver is about the whitest thing about him. The assistant editor of the Tribune, fellow citizens, is Solon Robinson. Solon Robinson is an Irishman, and everything about him is red. He has a red face, and a red head, and——"

Just here the speaker caught sight of a couple of double fisted, red-headed Irishman standing near, who looked pretty much as if they would a little rather swallow him whole than not.

"But, fellow-citizen," he continued, "I mean no disrespect to my Irish friends by speaking of a red headed Irishman. Indeed, I may say as a compliment to any such who may chance to be here to-day that I never saw a red-headed woman in my life that wasn't virtuous, nor a red-headed man with a single exception, that wasn't honest; and it is my deliberate conviction fellow-citizens, that if it hadn't been for Solon Robinson's red-head he would have been hanged long ago."—Cour. Journal.

Alcorn's Idea of the North and South.

[From Gov. Alcorn's Message to the Mississippi Legislature.]

The North and the South have long been distinguished by general divergencies of mind. The Southern thinking took the direction of a pure intellectuality. That of the North followed the less lofty but very much safer flight of material wisdom. Southern statesmen have ever sought and ever found strength among this people by achievements in political theories, while the statesmen of the North pursued the less brilliant but more judicious course of achievements in behalf of industrial greatness. The one group of thinkers gave their section doctrines on the theory of government, while the other group gave their section fishing bounties, coasting laws, harbor improvements, steamship subsidies, navy-yards, rifle manufactories, railway grants, and all those other gifts of practical wisdom by which they had been enabled to accept triumphs of Southern theories with the assured patience of men who had entered on the policy of erecting a physical strength which could, at its own good pleasure, crush those theories into powder under their heels.

John C. Calhoun's genius was of the very noblest. It has left to the Southern people the elevating influence of brotherhood within transcendent intellect. But with this tribute to the memory of a great man, what, let me ask, have the triumphs of his wonderful mind given to the people he loved well, if not wisely? In tenderness for his fame I do not ask you to turn your eyes for an answer to his beloved South, book, for an indirect reply, to the canals, he railways, the harbors, the fishing fleets, he coasting fleets of the North! If these do not speak out to you a plain answer as to the result accomplished by Southern devotion to political abstractions, while the North followed paths leading to material strength, look for a more pointed summing up of all these in that climax of the comparison of the Southern with the Northern school of statesmanship, presented to us on an occasion of profound humiliation under the apple-tree of Appomattox.

A Horrible Case of Hydrophobia.

The Police Called in to Tie the Victim—A Newspaper Advocates Killing Him.

On Tuesday Mr. Haley was found to be rapidly becoming weaker from the growing frequency and violence of the hydrophobic spasms. In the afternoon he became so violent that it was found dangerous to be in the room, and the combined efforts of four men were required to keep the madman in his bed when the spasms were upon him. Dr. Adams called upon the Mayor in the afternoon and requested some police force to aid in tying him fast. Several persons went to the house and succeeded in securing him. During one of his attacks the hydrophobist scratched one of his persons who was with him. This person was in the utmost alarm in regard to the scratch. It was proposed yesterday afternoon that it would be proper, and in the emergency necessary to give the patient chloroform to such an extent as to rid him entirely of all his misery in this world. This his family would not allow, and the patient was, up to our latest account, in dying agonies. To take the life of a human being is surrounded with the gravest responsibilities. The circumstances must be the most alarming, and only done when it is only necessary to preserve life or as a penalty for crime. In the present case the family and every other person that duty or necessity calls near the patient are in danger. To have the horrid disease spread in this community, even to the extent of one case, seems terrible to contemplate. It is mercy at times to take life when death is inevitable, and the present instance seems to warrant it. It is a question that the family and the authorities must determine.

A Wail for the Departing Negro.

"Walton," a Tennessee whangdoodle correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, melted to tears, writes: "Death is playing sad havoc among the colored people of Tennessee. Every winter the last enemy mows a wide swath among their ranks. Poor and persecuted, subjected to privation and bad usage, the aged and the tender are hurried to the grave with appalling rapidity. Consumption and pneumonia are the great enemies of the negro in Tennessee, and do a swift and fatal work. Some little statistics which have fallen under my observation are actually appalling. The poor negro has not yet learned to care for his health. It is very mournful. The colored people are leaving Middle and West Tennessee rapidly. The terror inspired by masked marauders has not been ephemeral or without effect. It is calculated that during the last winter 600 families left the county of Rutherford alone to go into West Tennessee. What a state of things does not this reveal! How eloquent the bare fact!"

WEDNESDAY,...APRIL 6, 1870.

We publish a letter of instructions from Gov. Holden to Capt. Pride Jones. The ring of this letter is temperate, amiable and sensible. We look at it as a man at a man. If we thought any wrong in it—we'd denounce it; for Gov. Holden—as a man—is no more to us than the poorest laborer in his every day rags. Both are our equals.

As a Governor he points in this letter to peace and submission to the law; and charity and good feeling toward all men. Certainly no man—unless a savage—will war against that! Most assuredly we shall not.

N. B.—It may be proper here to remark that we didn't "dine" with Gov. Holden last week; for—gads!—it seems that a man runs the risk of having his head chopped off for eating at another man's table now-a days!

Ho every one that thirsteth! We are going to form a committee of one, hold a convention, and nominate a proper man to go to the Legislature—or anywhere else

He must be a temperate man; a man that is no respecter of persons; a man who is as proud to hearken to a beggar as to stand before a king; a man who has seen adversity, and yet despises the influence of money; a man who can live on four dollars a day; a man who will work for the good of the whole people rather than the success and applause of any one party; an intelligent man; a good one. That's it.

A False Report.

We have never "dined" with Governor Holden. More's the pity!

The Governor has been quite derelict in never having asked us to "dine" with him. For we are sure fond of good eating!

Farewell, Vain World!

According to a letter writer in a Raleigh paper (who is an honorable man) our funeral is soon to be preached in the neighboring counties of this section. We do trust that a seemly regard will be had for our dead ashes. If there's to be any music at the grave we rather prefer the old thirteenth band as we used to march till we were nearly dead by the strains of their martial music.

Spiritualism in Newbern.

We've been to Newbern. Spiritualism is the chief excitement there. N. Frank White from Massachusetts is the alabaster sensationist. He gives "sittings" at the different houses. Much speculation is afloat. He uses the table. All hands put their hands on it and then after awhile the rappings begin about the room. Rap, rap, rap! sound all over the room. Some of the first citizens of Newbern say that these rappings have answered every question they asked them correctly. Two raps for "no," three for "yes." The spiritualist—Mr. White—sits off conversing and laughing with other parties while you may be conversing away off yonder with these mysterious rappings. We believe it all. And we believe too it is the work of the devil who is just about now breaking his chain and who will tempt if possible the very elect of God.

THE FINEST DRESSER IN NEWBERN.

She is a young married woman who has been divorced from one husband because he couldn't dress her fine enough; and she married a yankee and now wears thousand dollar dresses. Maroon Antique, Black Silk Velvet, and such. She is said to be very pretty and indeed she must "feel" and look "like a morning star" in such finery as this.

THE JOURNAL OF COMMERCE.

To our young friend and able editor S. Pool of the Commerce we are indebted for a very handsome notice that we not in the least expected. Coming from such an honored fountain at the head waters of Conservatism we can but drink it down and smack our lips. It is good.

THE ATLANTIC ROAD.

For fifty miles from Goldsboro the fare on this road is three dollars. Only six cents a mile! For freight shipped along this road they charge exactly the same for a stretch of fifty miles from Goldsboro to Newbern that they do for eighty six miles from Goldsboro to Morehead City. The point is that most of the directory of this road live at Beaufort and have sailing vessels for New York. They want the shipments while Newbern pays the piper! Some of the Newbern merchants showed us their freight bills from Goldsboro. They were enormous; so large as to completely cut off Newbern—our own little city by the sea—from all supplies from the State. It seems to be a popular idea with some of the most considerable of the merchants of Newbern that Billy Smith is the man to take charge of this road and run the whole thing to the building up of the State and her maritime city. One or two of the most prominent of these business men expressed these ideas. We give them for what they are worth.

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to see in our office on Monday last Capt. T. C. Evans, the junior editor of the Hillsboro Recorder. The sight of the Captain reminded us of bellum times, when he, like many other noble sons of the "Sunny South," went forth to do battle in the cause of liberty as we then supposed, but which as it now appears was simply a rebellion against "the best government that the would ever saw."

The personal appearance of the Captain was never such as to excite admiration, but his noble qualities of heart and head have always served to hide his imperfections in that respect. "Long may he wave" above the sod, and when he sinks beneath it, may he leave other little Evanses to take his place.

The Recorder has been greatly improved in its appearance of late, by a suit of new type, and it is now one of our best exchanges.—Danville Register.

PERSONAL.—We were glad to see in our office yesterday that witty journalist and staunch conservative, T. C. Evans, Esq., of the Hillsboro Recorder. Mr. Evans visits the city on a pleasure trip judiciously combined with business motives. We take pleasure in commending the paper which he represents to our business men, as a valuable medium through which to communicate with the citizens of central North Carolina. That it is succeeding so well is a matter of no small gratification to us.

Newbern Com.

A Letter of Instructions from Gov. Holden.

RALEIGH, March 17th, 1870.

TO CAPT. PRIDE JONES.

SIR: Yours of the 9th was duly received and would have been answered sooner but for the pressure of other business.

I am gratified at your acceptance of the Commission, and trust that your efforts will result beneficially to society.

It will readily occur to you that as the Executive I have no power to proclaim amnesty. The Solicitor may enter a nol pros; or he may not, and the Judge may then sentence, and then power of commutation or pardon is with the Executive. I am ready to do all that I can under the Constitution and laws, to compose trouble. It is not my purpose to prosecute or to take vengeance on any. What we want is submission to the laws, and peace in all the neighborhoods in the county. Public opinion can effect this more certainly and on a more permanent basis than the ministers of the law, under present circumstances. It is an important part of the duty assigned you to embody and direct this public opinion. In doing this, much must be necessarily left to your own discretion. You are thoroughly acquainted with the people of the county. You know their peculiar sentiments, their habits, and their modes of thought. Their prejudice, even, should be respected.

But the object of all this is to restore peace and good order.

Every citizen, no matter of what color or how poor or humble has a right to labor for a living without being molested, to express his political opinions without let or hinderance; and to be absolutely at peace in his own house. Every citizen has a right to attach himself to a secret political organization; and these organizations are harmless, so long as they respect the rights of person and property. But, though lawful, they are not expedient. The time has passed when they were even expedient. They can effect no special good at present, but they may be the cloak or the occasion for mischief. Especially are they so when the members disguise themselves, and take arms, and ride through neighborhoods breaking the peace and terrifying the inhabitants. You will, therefore, mildly but firmly discountenance and discourage all secret political organizations, and especially those that put on disguise and carry arms. It is a misdemeanor to go thus disguised with intent to terrify, and it is felony thus to commit any act of violence.

The authority with which you are invested is to be exercised in strict subordination to the civil power.

I take it for granted the Sheriff of Orange can execute any process that may be placed in his hands. But, if resisted, you are authorized to take men to his aid as a posse comitatus to ensure the arrest of criminals. And if criminals enter Orange from Alamance they should be arrested and held for trial.

Your attention is directed to the acts published in the Standard, Sentinel and Recorder, immediately after my proclamation of the 7th March. Also to the "Act making the act of going masked, disguised or painted a felony," laws of 1868–9, Capt. 267, page 613.

I would be glad to hear from you frequently as to the progress you are making in maintaining law and order in Orange.

Very Respectfully,
W. W. HOLDEN, Gov.

The Man that Wouldn't be Hanged.

[From Le Nord, of Brussels.]

The following incident has happened at Flessingue, in Holland: A wife exasperated by the continual drunkenness of her husband, threatened him with death. Some days ago she attempted to put her threat into execution. There was but an attic above the sitting room. To this she ascended, made a hole in the floor, and passed a rope through it, one end of which fell to the floor, below, while the other remained fastened in the attic. She then descended, made a slip-knot in the rope, and awaited her husband's return. He at last arrived and was much surprised to receive no reproaches on his bad conduct.

"There is something underhand here," thought he. "I must see."

We must premise that this scene took place in complete darkness. The husband, whose suspicions were roused, let himself fall into a chair and appeared to sleep profoundly. After some snoring, he felt a rope passed around his neck. He then understood the little trick that was to be played him, but did not move. His wife went up to the attic, and taking advantage of this moment's respite, the drunkard relieved himself of his rope and fastened it to the foot of the stove, which soon went up to the ceiling with a frightful noise, caused by the fall of some crockery which was standing upon it.

The wife, thinking the noise was caused by the fruitless struggles of her husband, ran to the police office to declare that she had found her husband hung. The police arrived in hot haste, and a candle was lighted, when all started back at the spectacle which presented itself. The stove was swinging gracefully in space, and the husband sat gravely smoking his pipe. Instead of a suicide, an attempt to murder was established against the wife, who was arrested.

For the Hillsboro Recorder.

To the People of Orange County.

As I see by the Hillsborough Recorder it is proposed to hold a mass meeting in Hillsboro on the 7th of May 1870 for the purpose, among others, to nominate candidates to fill the various offices within the county; I take this occasion to say that I neither desire or expect to be a candidate for the nomination of Senator. I make this announcement in accordance with a determination formed some time ago to retire from political life at the close of the present Legislature. This step is imperatively demanded by private considerations, and the duties I owe to others, as well as the necessity to give unremitting attention and study to the profession which I follow. The causes which induced me to be a candidate at the last election, as set forth in my letter then published, have mainly ceased to exist. To the many friends who supported my aspirations, and also to those who generously acquiesced and actively exerted themselves after my nomination, I return many hearty thanks. The motives of all who labored to prevent divisions and disunion in our ranks are fully appreciated. In my course as a member of the Senate I have honestly endeavored to do my full duty. Contending against an overwhelming majority, I regret that I was not able to accomplish more. To properly discharge the high trust, requires unceasing laborious effort. The fascinations and exhilaration which some think incident to public life soon pass away. The drudgery and irksome round of duties to one who earnestly labors for the good of his state and county, affords but little pleasure or time for enjoyment. A consciousness of having faithfully endeavored to perform my obligations and a knowledge that my conduct is approved by my constituents is the only reward that I ask. While I have no right to flatter myself that I would receive the nomination if a candidate, it is but just to many friends, who have intimated a willingness and desire to support me, to take an early opportunity of making the announcement herein contained, that they may make other selections, and on my part, to leave nothing undone that may promote the harmony of the proposed convention. In declining to be a candidate for the nomination I hope no one will suppose that I do not keenly desire the success of conservative principles. A knowledge of the imbecillity, corruption, extravagance and rascality of the Radical faction in the Legislature, and its aiders and abettors but makes me the more desirous that staunch and reliable men should be selected in the present emergency to devise measures for the resuscitation of our impoverished people. Any one is mistaken who supposes that the issues involved are not of vital consequence to our future prosperity and happiness. I shall labor earnestly for the triumph of those principles which I believe to be conducive to that end. I trust that our candidates may be well qualified for their important duties, and that old Orange may still retain the high position which she has ever occupied in the Councils of the State.

I am very truly yours,
JOHN W. GRAHAM.

STORIES OF 1812.

Two of them never before in Print.

There were two occurrences in the war of 1812, which are characteristic of the Kentucky soldiers at that time, which I do not recollect to have seen in print. The one occurred while the American prisoners were being marched through Canada to Fort George. On one occasion the officer commanding the guard bought some whiskey, and invited a Kentucky corporal to drink. The British Captain gave as a toast George III. The corporal drank without hesitation. The British Captain then called upon the corporal for a sentiment. The corporal rather declined, saying, "You have been kind in inviting me to drink, and I may give offence by giving a toast.' "No," said the Captain, "give a sentimental toast." The corporal then said: "May the skins of Kings be made drum-heads, and the shanks of Tories drum-sticks, to beat the Americans to arms." The British Captain remarked: "Sir, you must remember where you are, and act accordingly." A British Lieutenant, who composed one of the company said: "Stop, Captain, you called for a sentiment, and must not now take exception" Suffice to say, the British officers swallowed the toast.

The other happened at Camp Jackson, below New Orleans, on the 8th of January, 1815. After the British made their last charge on our breast-works they sent in a flag of truce, which was met by a flag from the American army, asking the privilege of removing their killed and wounded, which were numerous. A line was designated so far from our breastworks as to prevent the enemy discovering the nature of our defences, and American soldiers placed on one side of the line and British soldiers on the other. While their dead and wounded were being taken to this line and received by British soldiers, a soldier belonging to the latter remarked to a Kentucky soldier "It is useless for you to continue the contest; we are determined to take the city. We have Lord Packenham, Lord Gibbs, and Lord Keene, and a powerful army, and are determined to take the city." To which the Kentucky soldier replied: "We have on our side the Lord God Almighty, the Lord Jesus Christ and the hero, Old Hickory, and I'll be damned if we can't whip you." Kentuckians may be overpowered, but still they will crow.

Lexington Gazette.

"Two lovers were loitering on the margin of a lake, on a fine summer's evening, when the lady discovered some flowers of the Myosis growing on the water, close to the bank of an island, at some dstance from the shore. She expressed a desire to possess them, when her knight, in the true spirit of chivalry, plunged into the water, and, swimming to the spot, cropped the wished for plant—but his strength was unable to fulfil the object of his achievement; and feeling that he could not regain the shore, although very near it, he threw the flowers upon the bank, and cast a last affectionate look upon his lady love, he said forget me not, and was buried in the water."

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

HANGING of the BLALOCK MURDERERS.

THE CONFESSION OF TOM YOUNG.

A Sketch of Young—His Life &c.

On Friday last Tom Young and Bob Gunn—the negroes who murdered Blalock, the lame confederate soldier who kept a barroom in this place, were hung by the neck till they were dead inside of the Hillsboro Jail.

THE CROWD.

They crammed and jammed and surged around the outside of the jail literally wild with excitement and eager to catch a glimpse of the murderers and see them swing. There was a perfect jam at the corner windows of the East room and the tops of the trees were spotted with sable birds known as "the nation's wards"—all peeping and stretching their necks to get a long, last lingering look at the "men and brothers" who were just about to embark for that "bourne" whereof the poet has writ so much and still knows so little.

THE PRISONERS.

We entered the jail and found the condemned men seated in chairs by a fire in the East room below. Both had ropes around their necks, their arms pinioned, and the "black cap" thrown behind their heads and resting on their shoulders. Bob Gunn was dressed in a span new cotton shirt, without any coat on; and Young was attired in his same old shabby and ragged dress. They seemed to be suffering a great deal from mental agony. Bob looked pale and emaciated and writhed in pain from physical disease. Tom Young tossed his head wildly and threw it spasmodically up and down as if beating his breast with his chin and trying to throw the back of his head on his shoulders.

THEY MOUNT THE PLATFORM.

About half past one o'clock the prisoners took their seats in chairs on the platform erected opposite the back window and above which stout staples had been driven into the ceiling to tie the ropes. Bob—who walked tottering—led the way and was assisted to ascend the steps by a colored man. Young followed. While the Rev. Mr. George E. Hunt of the Orange circuit was exhorting the prisoners in a feeling and appropriate manner to put their trust in Jesus Christ, they were crying out "Lord have mercy on me!"

THAT THIRD PARTY.

It will be remembered that when Tom Young was brought here from Granville county where he was arrested that he told one or two of our citizens "that there were three of them that did the work and that the name of the third man was Bill Dooley." Though since that time Tom has been very reticent keeping to himself all that he knew about the murder. After the preacher was through exhorting them on the platform a bystander asked Young, if he knew Bill Dooley? He said he did. He was then asked: "Did Bill Dooley have any hand in the murder?" This question Young evaded and answered hesitatingly, "I led Bob Gunn into nothing." And then he began a gutteral unintelligible and doleful chant which he kept up to the last moment.

READING THEIR DEATH WARRANTS.

Sheriff Turner now read them their death warrants. Young sang frantically; and Bob Gunn kept up prayer during the reading. The sheriff then tied the ropes into the staples above and both prisoners stood erect waiting to take the "dark leap." Bob couldn't bear the "black cap," he had it raised some two or three times in order as he pleaded that he might say "good bye" to more of his acquaintances. The last man Bob shook hands with was the Senior editor of this paper saying to him, "you almost raised me," (alluding to the intimacy that existed between Bob's old master and the senior.)

THE PROP FALLS.

About two o'clock all things were ready. Young still mumbled and guzzled his doleful chanting. The prop fell. Both necks snapped. The murderers were hung. They were buried at the old gallows ground. Young's wife got here Friday evening. She walked all the way from Granville county and arrived only in time to meet the parties that buried her husband on their way back from the grave.

YOUNG—HIS LIFE—HIS CONFESSION.

The negro Tom Young was an old family servant and a faithful valet de chambre of Dr. Young, of Granville county, this State. He will be remembered by many in this section who belonged to the 13th N. C. Reg't. as having been the "camp boy" who waited on Dr. Young while a surgeon in Scales' Brigade. The doctor set a heap by "Tom" in those days, and he truly was a faithful and useful servant. He had plenty of chances during the war to go over to the yankees but he would never leave his master, and was trusted by him in many ways. "Freedom" no doubt demoralized Tom. The Sunday before the hanging Tom made a confession to a young gentleman named HANIER who took it down in writing and has kindly lent it us for publication. We give it as near as possible after the manner of Young's idiom.

THE CONFESSION OF TOM YOUNG.

Bob Gunn and me made up a plan at Ishum Councils on Saturday morning in December to kill Mr. Blalock. There mought have been an understanding betwixt Bob and Ishum afore this but I knowed nothing about it.

THAT BLOODY COGWHEEL.

I prepar'd the cogwheel at Isham Council's house about twelve o'clock on Saturday, intending to use it on Blalock that night.

HOW THEY WENT IN.

Young an' me was to have gone to Blalock's room together, but by some misunderstanding we didn't go together, but met there about eleven o'clock and between eleven and twelve o'clock we entered the room through the door together.

HOW BLALOCK WAS KILLED.

It took about thirty minutes to do the work. Mr. Blalock was smartly under liquor and after he let us in he lay down agin without having no conversation with us, and while he was on his bed I hit him with the cogwheel, and the only words he said was, "Oh! Lord! John, raise me up!" Who he meant by John, I don't know. In his death struggling he fell from the bed, an' I beat his brains out with the cogwheel, cut his throat with a small pocket knife, and put the pillow case in his mouth. In the meanwhile Bob Gunn tied the rope around his neck. Bob also did the holding while I beat the blows and used the knife. After we had done the work we searched Blalock's pockets and went into the front room to look after the cash drawer; got the money box, an' Bob took a decanter of liquor; We then went back in Blalock's room, took the table and chairs and put them on the bed to keep from turning 'em over, put out the little lamp that was burning and crawled out of a window that was at the head of Mr. Blalock's bed. Blalock died right off; he didn't offer no resistance.

THE "OTHER MAN."

I believe that Bob Gunn had an understanding with a third party to be present, or that he might have had a sentinel out; but I do not know whether it was so or no." Such is the end of this bloody chapter of horrors. The two fiends who did the deed are now in the hands of an allwise, all merciful, all powerful Judge. Let them be.

THEY SWING STILL.

It is a little singular how long a dead body moves on a rope. Three quarters of an hour after these prisoners were hung their dead bodies were moving one after another like the pendulum of a clock. Tom was in front swinging to and fro; and then come Bob. Both dead—but swinging still.

A NEW YORK REPORTER ON THE STAND.

Cuthbert of the New York Herald was present—a reporter. We think he's the same fine man who garbled our "interview" with Gov. Holden sometime since. However he was there. And his position as being a reporter for the best—as it is—paper in the United States was duly honored. He promised to give us credit for the "confession" we let him have. Wonder if he did? Ah Cuth! Cuth!

Gen. McGowan.

This noble old General who commanded a South Carolina Brigade in Gen. Lee's army is now located in Abbeville practicing law. In a private letter from Maj. L. H. HUNT of WILCOX's Division who is now living in Forkland, Ala., he says:—"I found the old gentleman in his office hard at work; he made himself agreeable and pleasant, as usual—full of life. He gave me a short history of the surrender with the tears running down his cheeks." Yes. It will bring the tears from a brave man even now!

The Old, Old Clock.

The oldest clock in America is right here. It was presented to Hillsboro by King George of England when Gov. TYRON was in command of this province. During the revolutionary war the tories dashed into this town and took its lead weights for bullets, and threw its big striking bell into the river ENO where it is now. A new bell was made for it in Philadelphia in 1805 and it now sits on top of the court house and rings out the dinner hour for man and beast.

Our Alligator.

Hillsboro has a live alligator. It is our'n. Capt. DAVIES of the Central Road sent it to us from Florida. It is at Dr. Hooker's Drug Store alive and kicking—we don't charge a cent. By the way after you all look at him your fill we think of pitching him into ENO. Look out little niggers! Don't fish along them thair banks!

Whipped His Wife.

A negro woman made a noise in town the other day. Her husband whipped her and she hollered. He whipped her bekase she had done a thing what he had told her no how not to do agin! by no means! And she done it. Did mun!

A War Incident.

Col. Hayman of the seventeenth United States Regulars is now commanding a detachment of federal troops in Raleigh. In a battle during the rebellion he came across a confederate captain who was lying wounded on the field and he gave him a drink of brandy. "What's your name?" asked the rebel. "Hayman," answered the yankee colonel. "Hayman!" said the rebel; "Why there was a Lieutenant in my regiment—the eighth North Carolina, killed to-day, by that name." Colonel Hayman hunted over the field and sure enough found the dead body of Lieutenant Hayman—it was his cousin!

About Advertisers.

☞ The Pace Warehouse in Danville is the most complete one South. Every convenience of the planter has been studied in the make up of this new house. It is but fair that these enterprising gentlemen have a full commend for this successful fabric of their own exertions.

☞ The card of our esteemed friend, R. C. Morton, of Richmond, Tobacconist, will be changed next issue—God willing.

☞ Yancey Bros; these elegant Notion & Dry Goods Merchants in Norfolk shall have a hearing in our next.

☞ The "new and beautiful setts of Parlor and Chamber Furniture" that have just arrived at HICKSON & TYACK'S in Danville shall have full notice next week.

☞ Go to GEO. I. HERRING, or A. Y. STOKES of Richmond for Groceries and FINE LIQUORS. And if you want the "sea Fowl Guano"—A. Y. STOKES has it.

☞ For your Boots and Shoes—good boots—good shoes—and sold cheap—go to CREWS and HICKSON in Danville. Old Guerrant the "war horse" of the old thirteenth is with them.

☞ Take your tobacco to the PLANTERS WAREHOUSE in Danville. Jim Neal is there and a cleverer "boy" never sampled a leaf.

☞ Buy your Hardware of HICKEY & SUBLETT in Danville. Go and see them.

☞ Go to H. W. COLE who keeps the Drug Store in Danville if you want the nicest and best of everything in His Line.

☞ KAUFFMAN and FOX in Danville will fit you with as nice a suit of clothes as you ever had on.

☞ T. C. Ellis of Cedar Grove wants RAGS bad! He also advertises the cheapest assortment of the best goods in this county.

☞ J. R. Gattis—the confectioner—has got a little of everything sweet in the world.

☞ Alex. Pleasants—postponed taxes.

☞ Mitchell and Allen of Newbern who are the most considirable merchants in the State advertise "Wood Mower and Reaper." At our leisure we wish to give some interesting facts to our readers that we have gleaned from this House.

☞ J. F. HELLEN of Newbern, see his card. For Cotton Yarns Corn, &c &c—here's your best chance.

Town Diary.

Our dogs now number twelve.

Hancock has gone to Raleigh.

A stray revenue man in Hillsboro with a dirty collar on. A perfect hog eye man.

There is a man in this town so mean that he can't turn around once without dodging from his shadow.

There are two old bachelors of sixty and one old maiden of fifty who are allfired anxious to marry each other in this town.

There is a double head chicken in town hatched by a hen at Captain Richards. The chicken is lively and the two heads are perfectly formed.

A patient negro of this place named Job professes to remove warts on the hand by rubbing his thumb over them and a good many believe that he can.

The old corner house that has looked a sight for a long time has now been fitted out span new and converted into an elegant Drug Store where Dr. Hooker keeps.

Fred. Strudwick' Esq., though a young representative for a short term from Hillsboro has been highly complimented by the Wilmington Journal which we consider the ablest paper in the State.

A man named BOSTICK just from England passed through town to-day on his way to Danville Va. He had three women folks, six young children, three dogs—one a Mexican greyhound—and seven horses along with him. Mr. Bostick is going to locate in Danville.

The Season and its Dangers.

The human body is chiefly composed of tissues and fibres as sensitive to every change in the condition of the atmosphere as the most delicate electrometer or the quicksilver in a barometer tube.

The stomach, the skin, the nerves, the lungs, and the excretory organs are especially liable to be affected by these variations, and the best defence against their disastrous tendency is to keep the digestive machinery, which feeds and nourishes the the whole system, in good working order.

If the stomach is weak or disodered neither the blood nor the bile can be in a healthy state and upon the fitness of these two important fluids for the offices assigned to them by nature, and the regularity of their flow, health in a great measure depends.

When the air is heavily laden with chilling vapors, as it often is at this season of the year, the digestion should be an object of peculiar care. If it is weak and languid, the whole physical structure will be enervated. If it is vigorous, the entire organization will be strong to resist the untoward and depressing influence of a damp and vitiated atmosphere.

A pure and powerful toule is therefore especially needed as a safeguard against the diseases most common in the spring, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters being the most wholesome and potent medicine of the class at present known, a course of it is particularly advisable at this period of the year. The stomach will therefore be toned and strengthened, the liver and bowels regulated, the nervous system braced up, and nature put in a state of active defence against the miasma which superinduces intermittent and remittent fevers, rheumatism, nervous debility, headache, hypochondria and other complaints which are apt to assail the untoned and unfortified organizations. The body is strengthened and without exciting the brain, and consequently no unpleasant reaction follows its reviving and renovating operation.

A GENTLEMAN who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the receipt and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence JOHN B. OGDEN,
No 42 Cedar street, New York.

ROSE TIME.

It was not in the winter
Our loving lot was cast;
It was the time of roses—
We plucked them as we passed!

That churlish season never frowned
On early lovers yet;
O, no—the world was newly crowned
With flowers when we met!

'Twas twilight and I bade you go,
But still you held me fast;
It was the time of roses—
We plucked them as we passed!

Spice.

Never eat your soup with a fork, nor wash your feet in the tureen when dining out.

A young lady who drew a gentleman's wrapper at a recent gift concert in Waterbury, Conn., now wants a gentleman to put into it.

A couple of fellows who were pretty thoroughly soaked with bad whiskey, got into the gutter. After floundering about for a few minutes, one of them said, "Jim, let's go to another house, this hotel leaks."

"Shall I help you to some tomatnsses?" inquired a young exquisite of a venerable physician, as he sat opposite to him at a hotel table. "No, sir, I thank you," replied the learned savant, "but I'll trouble you for the potatnsses, if you please."

"Did you ever go to a military ball?" asked a lisping maid the other night of an old veteran of Jackson's army of '15. "No, my dear," growled the old soldier, "in those days I had a military ball come to me and what d'ye think, it took off my leg."

A clergyman is somewhere described as preaching a sermon for the blind, when, expiating on the blessing conferred by the precious visual organs, he exclaimed. "If all were born blind, what a shocking sight it would be!"

THE CADETSHIP SALES—A STORY OF A CRAZY MILLER.—The plea of Mr. Whittemore, argued so disastrously to his client by General Butler, that the cadet money all went to the poor, has revived the old story of the miller who sometimes had crazy fits in which he always imagined himself to be the Lord judging the world. On these occasions he would put on a paper crown, ascend a pile of meal bags with great dignity, and call his neighbors in succession. The same ones were always judged; and they were millers of his vicinity. The first summoned was Rans Schmidt:

"Hans Schmidt, shtand oop. Hans, vat is peen your pishness in dat old world?"

"I vas a miller, Oh Lort."

"Vas you a joost mon?"

"Vell, ven der vater was low and the pishness is pad, O Lort, I somedimes dakes a leetle exdra doles."

"Vell, Hans, you shall go ofer mit der gotes, already yet."

And in succession all were tried and immediately sentenced to go over to the goats. Last of all the miller invariably tried himself in the following style:

"Yacob Miller, shtand oop. Yacob, vat vas your pishness in dat order vorld?"

"I vas miller, Oh Lort."

"Vas you always a joost mon, Yacob?"

"Vell, Oh Lort, ven de vater vas a leetle low and de pishness pad, I somedimes dakes some leetle exdra doles; but, Oh Lort, I all de vile gives does exdra doles to de poor."

[After a long pause.] "Vell, Yacob Miller, you can go ofer mit de sheeps, but it is von dam tight squeeze.—Cin. Gaz.

These Instruments have been before the Public for nearly 30 years, and upon their excellence alone attained an unparalleled pre-eminence which pronounces them unequalled. Their combines great power, sweetness and fine singularity, as well as great purity of intonation, and evenness throughout the entire scale. Their TOUCH
is pliant and elastic, and entirely free from the stiffness found in so many Pianos. In WORKMANSHIP
they are unexcelled, using none but the very best seasoned material, the large capital employed in our business enabling us to keep continually an immense stock of lumber, &c. on hand.

All our Square Pianos have our New Improved Overstrung scale and the Agraffe Treble.

We would call special attention to our late improvements in GRAND PIANOS and SQUARE GRANDS, Patented Aug. 14, 1866, which bring the Piano nearer perfection than has yet been attained. Every Piano fully Warranted for 5 years.

PLANTATION BITTERS.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day the best and purest tonic, and the most popular medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Country Stores.
